Recruiting Prospective Cornell Students!

Do you know a high school senior who is thinking of applying to Cornell or who you'd like to see go to your alma mater? Then help spread the word about a two-day field trip for high school seniors interested in visiting the Cornell campus, sponsored by the Cornell Alumni Admissions Ambassador Network (CAAAN) of the Cornell Club of Washington. Included in the agenda is a tour of the campus, admissions presentations, classes and free time to explore.

There are two bus trips: Sun.-Mon. Nov. 2-3, and Sun.-Mon. Nov. 16-17. Buses leave from Montgomery Mall in Bethesda at 7:15 a.m and return the following evening to the same place around 8:30 p.m. Housing will be provided by Cornell (at no additional charge) in freshman dorms.

The cost is $80.00 for the bus and for Sunday night dinner. Checks should be made out to the Cornell Club of Washington and sent to Grace Morgenstein, 11201 Tack House Court, Potomac, MD 20854.

In past years, buses have filled early, and students have been turned away, so early reservations are recommended. Any student interested must fill out a medical insurance form and have it signed by a parent of guardian. For information, medical release forms and registration questions, please contact Grace Morgenstein at 301/983-8552 or at gmm11@cornell.edu.

Roving Reporter: Potomac Paddle

From Joyce Nicholas, MPA '02: On September 6th, eight Cornellians and I gathered to spend a beautiful afternoon on the Potomac River. Our group started our paddling expedition at Jack's Boathouse near the Key Bridge and ventured up river before picnicking at the Roosevelt Memorial. All of us were in agreement that there was no better way for us to enjoy what has been a rarity this summer- a dry and sunny day in D.C. We are all looking forward to next year's paddle down the Potomac.

Send your reports of Cornell events--digital pictures appreciated!--to Newsletter Editor, Helen Schwartz at hschwartz@earthlink.net

Dinner discussion: October 21, 6:30 p.m., Luna Books, 1633 P St., NW
Play: October 30, 8 p.m., Arena's Kreeger Theater

The Modern Drama Discussion Group (MDDG) known as Footlights is a project of the Cornell Club and other DC-area alumni clubs, with members discussing theater over dinner with a guest speaker and attending performances at a discount. October's play is Proof, by the Pulitzer Prize-winning playwright David Auburn, a play about love, trust, personal integrity and mathematical genius.

Proof tells the story of a young woman who has spent her youth caring for her brilliant mathematician father as he became mentally ill. After his death, she sits alone on her 25th birthday wondering whether she has inherited his madness or genius or both.

On Tuesday, October 2, Wendy Goldberg, the director of Arena Stage's production, will lead the discussion at Luna Books, 1633 P St., NW (third floor) (202/332-2543), three blocks east of Dupont Circle. Dinner starts at 6:30 p.m., the meeting at 7:30. Contact Mark Gruenberg for reservations at 202/898-4825 (any time, day or night) or gruenberg@footlightsdc.org. Metro access: Dupont Circle on the Red Line.

Footlights will attend Proof on Thursday, October 30 at 8 p.m. in Arena Stage's Kreeger Theater, including a cast post-show discussion. Excellent orchestra or dress circle tickets are available at a discount price of $35 per ticket. Send your check, arriving no later than October 15, payable to Footlights, to Robin Larkin, 5403 Nibud Ct., Rockville, MD 20852. Tickets will be distributed at the theater just before the performance. Call or e-mail Robin for information and reservations, 301/897-9314 or rlarkin@footlightsdc.org.

The November discussion is on George Bernard Shaw's Heartbreak House, on Wednesday, November 19, led by Nick Olcott, directing the production at the Round House Theatre. Group tickets will be available for the Sunday, November 30th performance at 3 p.m.

For further information about Footlights, go to <http://www.footlightsdc.org>.

CCW-Johnson School Alumni Host Luncheon Meeting on Investment Banking

The Cornell Club of Washington and the Johnson School Alumni Club of Washington will hold their first joint business-topic lunch on Wednesday, October 29 at noon. The speaker will be James A. Rowan, Jr., Managing Director of Legg Mason Wood Walker, a full service investment banking firm.

Jim received his B.A. in economics from the Arts School and his M.B.A. in finance from the Johnson School. He specializes in initial public offerings, private placements, and mergers and acquisitions in the for-profit education sector. Jim will discuss the role of the investment banker in the proprietary education and training fields, and, time permitting, recent developments in investment banking generally.

Join other Cornellians at Sam & Harry's, 1200 19th Street, NW (19th Street between M and N). The Dupont Circle Metro stop is less than two blocks away from the restaurant and there are several parking garages within walking distance.

If you are interested in attending, please respond to Néstor Cruz at nestor.cruz@verizon.net or 703/256-4109.

JOHNSON SCHOOL ACTIVITIES SURVEY

Interested in noon-time lunches on topics of current business interest? Johnson School alumni in the Washington Metropolitan Area want to know whether CCW members interested in business issues would be attracted to periodic lunches held downtown or in selected locations in Maryland and Virginia.

Lasting about 90 minutes, these meetings would typically feature a Cornell alumnus/alumna from the area speaking on some timely business topic related to his or her work. Many area alumni/alumnae are involved in a wide array of business, legal, and government activities of interest to business men and women.

If this type of program is of interest to you, please contact Néstor Cruz by e-mail at nestor.cruz@verizon.net or by calling 703/256-4109.

Time for Old Rag XXXVI--Again!

The thirty-sixth climb at Old Rag Mountain, originally scheduled for September, was rained out. If you were planning to go or bemoaning you had to miss this grand event, then here's good news. The annual CCW climb of Old Rag Mountain near Sperryville, Virginia has been re-scheduled for Saturday, October 4. This is one of the Washington Area chapter's most popular excursions, and we expect a large turnout (25-40) each time we go.

The first 2/3 of the strenuous 9-mile hike is on a trail through the trees, while the upper part is open and rocky. Bring lunch and water carried in a day-pack, and wear a hat and sturdy shoes. The total time needed for climbing, enjoying the view, eating and descending is about six hours. The Park Service has a $5 fee per person and allows no more hikers after the parking lot is full. Therefore, a prompt 8 a.m. start from the Cornell Center is needed for this full-day event.

Let Bob McKinless '48 know if you are planning to go (or if you have questions) by calling 703-256-5451 or e-mailing bikerbob8@mac.com. Please contact Bob immediately so he can arrange transportation and carpools. Give your name, home phone number and the number of passengers you could carry comfortably - or if you NEED a ride.

Coming in November: Life Is for the Birds!

Bring your school age children, grandchildren, nieces and nephews to CCW's November 14th nature program. Ruth Hanessian, Class of '60, will discuss common and rare birds at the Croydon Creek Nature Center in Rockville, MD. She will also help participants prepare "treats" that they can take home to offer to their backyard birds. This event is sure to be a fun family event. All interested parties are asked to RSVP by reaching Joyce Nicholas MPA '02 at JNCHLS202@aol.com.

Adventure with the Urbanauts!

Try CCW's Attractive Weekday Tours and Luncheons

Diplomatic Reception Rooms Drawing Well

The Club's upcoming November 19th tour of the U.S. State Department's Diplomatic Reception Rooms, announced in last month's CCW News, drew an immediate and strong response. So strong, in fact, that we are already beginning to plan a repeat tour in February 2004, again with luncheon in one of the Department's Executive Dining Rooms. Members should indicate their possible interest in a February tour as soon as possible, even before the details are announced.

Those who have already signed up for the November 19th tour will be contacted directly and be asked whether or not they want to stay for a Luncheon in the Daniel Webster Room at a cost of $22 per person following the tour. They will also be asked to meet promptly at 10:00 a.m. in front of the Department's 23rd Street entrance and will be reminded that this is a fine arts tour. Briefcases, backpacks, shopping bags and other parcels are not allowed, also for security reasons, but tour participants may bring cameras and the ladies may carry purses.

Both the November and the February tours are being arranged by CCW's Urbanauts and are open to all club members. The Urbanauts are a loosely structured activity created to offer daytime events on weekdays to all members who live in the suburbs (and downtown) and who prefer to come into the "Urbs" during daylight hours--all age groups welcome.

Other Tours

Urbanaut organizers Bob Day and Marge Loory are tentatively planning for this winter and early spring and request your feedback and suggestions on: a walking tour with luncheon in Old Town Alexandria; a visit to the Library of Congress; and, in March 2004, a weekday tour of Washington's new International Spy Museum with lunch and a special guest speaker in the Spy City Café. Also being planned is a Tuesday luncheon with a guest speaker in the historic DACOR-Bacon House at 18th and F Streets, N.W.

Expressing your interest now in any particular event, including your preferred day of the week, will help your Programming Committee and the CCW Urbanaut coordinators to maximize the appeal and success of these daytime events.
